About Dr. Winnifred Tang:

Dr. Winnifred Tang holds a Ph.D. in Special Education from the University of British Columbia. She specializes in the diagnosis and intervention of dyslexia. Dr. Tang focused on teaching academic reading and writing for ESL/EFL college students in her Master of Education degree; as such, she has an in-depth understanding of how non-native English speakers learn to read and write in English. This has helped her tremendously in her present work where she has to diagnose ESL students who are dyslexic and not able to benefit from regular ESL instruction in school.
